My best working conditions

What helps me think, focus and do good work?

Mornings are my deep-work time. After lunch is better for brainstorming. Coffee improves both.

How to get my attention

Best way to reach me / What to include

And if it's urgent?

Send the question and its context directly in chat. For urgent blockers, call. A message saying only 'Hi' leaves me guessing.

Read me correctly

What people sometimes misunderstand... and what it usually means.

When I poke holes in an idea, I'm usually taking it seriously and trying to strengthen it. You can also tell me you want exploration before critique. Silence often means I'm thinking; give me a moment before asking again.

When something goes wrong...

Feedback, disagreement or support.

Tell me directly and privately, with a concrete example. If my sarcasm lands badly, please say so - I'd rather know.

+ Bonus features

My secret superpower...

Making a great meal from leftovers.

Get me talking about...

Cooking, recipes and places to eat.
